

TWO ARE DROWNED IN MARIE

Chicagoans Lose Lives on First Day of Week's Vacation

FIRST DROWNING OF YEAR

Cornelius Wilson and William Wagner Victims of Accident While Fishing—Both Bodies are Recovered

The first drowning accident of the season in this locality occurred Monday when two young men lost their lives in the waters of Lake Marie.

The dead, Cornelius Wilson, thirty-eight years of age, and William Wagner, 23 years of age, in company with a friend by the name of W. N. Akerly, having planned to spend a pleasant vacation in the lake region, arrived at the Dressell house Sunday evening. At about nine o'clock Monday forenoon they started out to fish, the first two occupying one boat while Mr. Akerly took a second. During the forenoon they visited Thompson's place and were returning home, somewhere near 12:30 o'clock. All at once, when the boats were about 500 feet from the west shore where the water is about 25 feet in depth, Akerly who was five or six hundred feet distant, heard a cry and turning saw the upturned boat floating upon the water and one of the men struggling to swim ashore. His companion was nowhere to be seen, and after a swim of about 25 feet, he to sank. Akerly hastened to their rescue as did also Mr. Donker who was out in a sail boat, but before aid could reach them it was too late.

Efforts to recover the bodies were at once begun, Wilson being found at 5 o'clock Monday evening. The body was brought to the James undertaking rooms, and just as all was in readiness for the inquest at ten o'clock Tuesday morning word was received that the body of Wagner had been found. The inquest was then postponed until the second body was also brought to the undertaking rooms.

Coroner Taylor then empanelled the following jury, E. C. Sabin, Wm. Osmond, David Lightner, J. C. James and B. F. VanPatten, who after hearing the facts in the case returned a verdict of "Accidental drowning by overturning of boat."

The remains were prepared for shipment and sent to Chicago on the 4:41 train Tuesday afternoon.

Both men were unmarried and both were employed at the Moxley livery, 1231 West Monroe street.

TWO DROWNED WHILE SEINING FOR MINNOWS

Frank Burgett, 24 years old, of Genoa Junction, met death by drowning Saturday while attempting to rescue his companion, Chas. Swan, who had fallen into a hole in the mill pond, while seining for minnows.

The two young men had been fishing and had evidently run short of bait. At any rate they decided to obtain some minnows and waded into the mill pond at Richmond for that purpose. All at once Swan stepped into a hole and sank. Burgett rushed to his assistance and made a brave effort to save his friend's life, but was not only unsuccessful in his attempt, but also sacrificed his own life.

Mr. Burgett was unmarried and is survived by his father, mother and three sisters. He was a cousin of Andrew Harrison of this place.

Swan was a married man and leaves a wife and three children.

The funeral was held Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harrison attending.

TO BUILD POWDER PLANT

The Rebuilding of the Powder Plant Started Monday of This Week

The board of directors of the E. I. Dupont de Nemours company has formally decided to rebuild the powder mills at Pleasant Prairie wrecked by the explosion of March 9th of this year and the work of rebuilding was started on Monday morning. However, the plant which is to be built will be an auxiliary plant and it will in no way be as large as the plant destroyed by the explosion. It will be what is known as a "wood glaze mill" and it is declared that the construction of the plant will be such that the damage of explosions doing any great damage will be almost entirely eliminated.

In the rebuilding of the plant the contractors have been ordered to observe the new Wisconsin state law to the letter. The buildings will be widely separated and they will be so protected that it is held that it will be impossible for an explosion in one of the buildings to cause an explosion in any other buildings. The capacity of the new plant will be about the same as the capacity of the plant when it was first opened at Pleasant Prairie more than ten years ago. Many of the buildings partially destroyed by the explosion will be entirely abandoned and the number of buildings to be built will be much smaller than in the big plant wrecked by the explosion. There will be no provision for the storage of dynamite on the Pleasant Prairie property and the plant will no longer be used as a distributing plant by the powder trust. The work of putting up the buildings will be the work of only a few weeks and it is expected that the plant will be for operation by the early fall. Much of the business formerly done at Pleasant Prairie is now being done at Hibbing, Minn., plant and the company is taking the business to other plants just as rapidly as possible.

EX-SHERIFF WANDRACK LANDS A FINE STATE JOB

It was good news to his thousands of friends in this city and county when they read in last Sunday's papers, among the appointments made by Governor Deneen anticipatory of the new civil service law, that of Ex-Sheriff Charles Wandrack, of Woodstock, to the position of inspector of milk factories under the direction of the pure food commission of the state, an appointment that carries with it a salary of $1,200 per year, with expenses, and the genial ex-sheriff will at once enter upon his duties, which will be permanent so long as he performs them without error that can be successfully attacked.

This appointment came as the result of the efforts of Senator Olson, Congressman Copley and Representative Vickers, the first named of whom had much to do with the passage of the law that created this important position.

Among the other appointments by the governor were several that are accredited to Senator Olson, while his support of the civil service law has put the jobs of several others in safe standing. These are the new appointments:

Robert Connelly, Waukegan, deputy fire marshal, salary $1,500.

Chase Webb, Waukegan, deputy fish warden.

Lee Coulman, Boone county, deputy fish warden.

Eli Blanchford, Boone county, position in grain office in Chicago.

Wayne Harney, Crystal Lake, deputy fish warden.

L. Newton, Belvidere, game warden.

Mr. Billings, Fox Lake, game warden.

Among those placed under civil service are:

Chas. Eldredge, Richmond, game warden.

V. E. Brown, Woodstock, state grain office, Chicago.

Thus it is shown that our senator has not been idle, but that he is always considering the interests of his friends and using his influence, which is great, in their behalf.—Woodstock Republican.

FIRE DESTROYS FARM BUILDINGS NEAR PIKEVILLE

Just at noon Thursday fire destroyed the house and barn at the farm of Ben Gillmore two and a half miles north-east of Pikeville, entailing a loss of about $6,000.

It is reported that the fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene stove in the kitchen.

Practically all of the household goods were destroyed as was also the contents of the barn. A new $300 concrete silo was also destroyed by the flames.

DROWNED IN GAGES LAKE

Louis Czeweski, a Chicago boy, is Drowned, Caused by Severe Cramp

BOY SCOUTS HUNT BODY

Sank in About Sixty Feet of Water, Secure Grappling Irons to use in Search of Body

Louis Czeweski, 23 years old, a Chicago boy, was drowned Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in Gages Lake. His body sank in between fifty and sixty feet of water and up to the present time all efforts to raise it have proved unavailing. The victim was drowned about thirty rods from shore and in sight of three hundred resorters and campers.

Czeweski had gone to Gages Lake to spend a day with friends who lived near there. Arrived there he donned a bathing suit and began to swim along after the boat in which his two companions, one of whom was his cousin, were rowing.

The young men were facing toward him and suddenly saw him throw his hands in the air and take on an agonized expression. The next moment he sank out of sight.

They rowed to the place where he had gone and waited for him to rise to the surface so that they might rescue him but he did not come up. It is believed that he was taken with a cramp.

The Boy Scouts of Evanston, commanded by P. W. Werck, are camping on the shore of the lake. Their sentry heard the cry for help from the two young men in the boat and soon four loads of expert swimmers were rowed to the point where the young man went down. Werck estimates that less than two minutes elapsed from the time Czeweski went down to the time the Boy Scouts went on the scene looking for his body.

The strong wind that was blowing caused the water to be very muddy and the divers asserted that it was impossible for them to see more than a few feet. An order was sent to Chicago for grappling irons and an effort will be made to raise his body by dragging for it.

Gages Lake is very deep at this point and it is said that the body sank on the edge of weeds where the bottom of the lake drops off abruptly to between two and three hundred feet in depth. It is believed that considerable difficulty will be encountered in locating the body of the victim.

Czeweski's cousin, a young man named Brown who lives a few miles from Gages Lake was the one to break the news to the victim's relatives in Chicago. His message was short. All he said was: "Tell Louis' folks that he has been drowned."

The death of Czeweski is especially pathetic because he was married but six months ago.

The search for his body continued until dark and was resumed the first thing in the morning. It is believed that it will be recovered as soon as the grappling irons are secured.

Chinese Traits.

The Chinese are orderly, law-abiding and well-behaved; they have a strong sense of right and justice—are fair minded; they are reliable in commercial dealings—pay their debts and keep their agreements, whether verbal or written; they are dutiful to parents, fond of children and mindful of etiquette and punctilious about returning courtesies or favors; they are respectful to elders and superiors; they honor and respect character and intellectual ability, and do not recognize an aristocracy of wealth. This list might be largely extended, but it is enough to show what I have undertaken to show—that China has not by any means to seek abroad all the requisites for national greatness and popular welfare; some of the most important are here already.—Address to students of St. John's college, Shanghai.

MAY SEEK REPEAL OF FISH LAW

Many Fishermen Fear That Game Specimens Will be Taken From Nets

NEED OF MANY WARDENS

Fishermen Plan to Join State Movement to Secure Repeal of Law Allowing Seining of Fish

DuPage county fishermen who have studied the "fish" statute, passed by the 1911 legislature are considering the advisability of joining a state-wide movement to secure its repeal. One of the peculiar features of the bill is that the use of a seine is permitted as long as game fish are not taken from the water. In order to enforce the provision it would be necessary to employ a warden for each fisherman.

Anyone who has $1.50 for a license may start in July and seine as much as he pleases, the wardens having to take his word that he is not trying to take game fish. For this reason real fishermen believe the law is no protection to game fish.

During the summer months, from July 1st, it will be unlawful for any person to sell black bass, the most popular fish of the finny tribe.

This is the construction placed upon the new fish law recently passed by the forty-seventh general assembly by Attorney General Stead, who, in answer to a request for his opinion on the law wrote E. E. Caldwell, chief fish warden, of Havana.

The attorney general in his answer to Mr. Caldwell says that the law is plain and that whether or not the fish were caught in this state it is against the new law to sell them after July 1st. The section provides as follows:

"It shall be unlawful at any time to sell or offer for sale or expose for sale or have in possession for the purpose of selling any black bass, pike, pickerel or pike-perch, commonly known as wall-eyed pike, or pack or yellow salmon."

Public Notice

Is hereby given that at a meeting of the highway commissioners of the town of Antioch, held Monday July 2, 1911, the time of payment of poll taxes has been extended to July 15, 1911. All poll taxes must be paid by that time, if not paid suit will be begun against every delinquent in the township of Antioch. The reason for extending the time is, that some may not have understood that same must be paid, and wishing all to have a chance to save the expense, which will be considerable, this action has been taken. Understand, all able bodied men between the age of 21 and 50, who is not a pauper, idiot, lunatic, school director, or town officer, and who lives outside of the villages of Antioch and Lake Villa must pay a poll tax. Said tax is payable at the office of J. C. James, Antioch, Ill.

W. S. RINEAR,

Township Clerk.

Dated the 2d of July, 1911. 2w

Emerson on Civilization.

The civilized man has built a coach, but has lost the use of his feet. He is supported on crutches, but lacks so much support of muscle. He has a Geneva watch, but he falls of the skill to tell the hour by the sun. A Greenwich nautical almanac he has, and so, being sure of the information when he wants it, the man in the street does not know a star in the sky. The solstice he does not observe; the equinox he knows as little; and the whole bright calendar of the year is without a dial in the mind. His libraries overload his wit; the insurance office increases the number of accidents; and it may be a question whether machinery does not outnumber; whether we have not lost by refinement some energy, by a Christianity entrenched in establishments and forms, some vigor of wild virtue. For every Stoic was a Stoic, but in Christendom where is the Christian?—Emerson.

GRAIN DEALER DROWNED

James Pettit, President of Peavey Grain Company, Drowned Saturday

James Pettit, one of the international kings of the grain trade and a business man with J. Ogden Armour and others in the wheat business, was drowned off Hotel Moraine at Highland Park Saturday, when water wings which he wore as an aid to swimming slipped from about his chest to his feet, entangled them, so that his head went beneath the water, his feet above, and he suffocated to death.

Pettit was the president and, it is believed, the treasurer of the Peavey Grain company of Chicago. He was rated as worth several millions, and when the news of his tragic death came into Chicago grain markets over the tickers there was a sensation.

Pettit, who with his wife and a 4-year old son has been stopping at Hotel Moraine for the past seasons during the summer, had just had breakfast with George Marcy, head of the J. Ogden Armour grain company of Chicago, the biggest grain dealers in the world. He invited Marcy to take a swim with him, but Marcy declined and Pettit left the hotel alone.

Not being able to swim he attached water wings about his chest. This was near 8 o'clock.

An hour later when he had not returned, his wife gave the alarm, and sent the chauffeur to the lake to discover if anything was amiss.

He found the body of Pettit floating in shallow water a few feet from the shore, where heavy seas had carried it, dead. The head was beneath the water, the feet above, due to the water wings. The body came ashore just off Hotel Moraine beach.

The Pettits reside at 49 East Cedar street in the Lake shore drive district Chicago.

MICE IN THE RAILWAY CARS

Traveling Man Always Carries a Trap, and Catches One About Every Other Night.

"On my last trip across the continent I met a man who showed me a hitherto unsuspected danger of sleeping cars," said the traveling man. "The first night out from Denver he occupied the berth across the aisle from mine. Shortly after everybody had turned in for the night I heard him fussing around and I looked out. He had baited an old fashioned mouse trap with cheese and was leaning out to set it on the floor under his berth. Along in the night I thought I heard the trap click. The next morning I got up ahead of my neighbor to watch his maneuvers with the mouse trap. I felt kind of creepy when I saw him pick up the trap with a dead mouse dangling from the wire noose. Later I expressed astonishment at my neighbor's bagging that kind of game on a transcontinental train.

"Oh, that's nothing," said he. "I catch a mouse about every other night in seasons when I am on the road most of the time. I don't know where they make their nests, but there are few of the ordinary coaches that do not carry their share of mice."

"In Chicago I bought a five-cent mouse trap and set it on the way home, but I did not catch a mouse."

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

Two Others Are Hurt in Leap from Second Story Window of Lake Forest Home

DOMESTIC LOSES HER LIFE

Dr. Fiske's $75,000 Home Completely Ruined by Mysterious Fire Which Broke Out Wednesday Morning

Miss Marie Kinney, aged twenty-six years, a domestic employed in the home of Dr. G. F. Fiske, oculist, with offices in the Reliance building at Chicago, was burned to death in a fire of unknown origin, which destroyed the Fiske residence at Lake Forest at an early hour Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Fiske, and the housekeeper, Sarah Mullen, the only other occupants of the residence were badly injured, by leaping from a second story window.

Mrs. Fiske sprained her ankle, and broke a bone in her right foot. Miss Mullen broke two bones in her right ankle, and both women were severely burned.

When Miss Mullen discovered that the residence was in flames, she grasped the mattress from her bed and threw it out of the window. Both women landed on the mattress in their leap from the burning building. They were carried to the convent of the Sacred Heart by nurses.

The woman who was burned to death was asleep, it is thought, in an upper bedroom of the house. The charred bones of the unfortunate young woman were found on the steel of the bed by members of the Volunteer fire department.

The Fiske residents was reduced to a pile of ashes and wreckage in less than one hour. Attempts made to save valuable furniture, relics, tapestries and rugs were of no avail.

The Fiske residence was one of Lake Forest's finest. It was located on Sheridan Road, and was the last house in the south end of Millionaire's Row. The property was valued at over $25,000. It is reported that it is fully insured. Dr. Fiske lost a collection of relics which were valued at something like $50,000.

Dr. Fiske's two children were stopping with relatives in Chicago. Dr. Fiske was not at home at the time the fire started. He was located at the Onwentsia Club rooms.

Dr. and Mrs. Fiske had planned to move to Chicago, as they had rented their Lake Forest summer home to the manager of the Sears-Roebuck Company of Chicago.

The young women who was burned to death was a sister of Mrs. Albert Hoffman, whose husband is employed as a police officer at Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Fiske have made their home in Lake Forest since 1895.

HE'S A COMPETENT ADVISER

Farmer's Son Ran Away to the City and Now Edits an Agricultural Paper.

"It is greatly to be regretted," was remarked in the hearing of a farmer, "that farmers' boys do not stick to the farm. It seems as if scarcely any of them do."

"Oh, I dunno," said the farmer. "I've raised eight boys and they're all farmers 'cept one."

"Is that so? Only one of them caught by the glitter of the city, eh?"

"Yes, that's all. Poor Rob would go spite of all I could do—run away to the city when he was 12, and we ain't never seen him since, though it's been over 20 years. But I dunno but it's all right; he hadn't no likin' for farm work, nor wouldn't take no interest in it. He jes' naturally seemed to hate the farm, and didn't know enough about farm work to drive ducks to water."

"Yes, I think it was better that he should leave the farm, as he evidently had no taste for it. Is he in the mercantile business?"

"Oh, no, nothing of the kind," replied the farmer; "for the last ten years Bob has been editor of an agricultural paper. He writes the 'Hints to Farmers,' 'How to Do Farm Work,' 'Stick to the Farm, Boys,' and such things."

THIS WAS THE LIMIT

PAPA THREATENED THE TOTAL DISRUPTION OF HOME.

He insisted on Having the Place Livable or Moving to a Hotel, and He Carried His Point.

"Wipe your feet, papa," reminded papa's eldest daughter as he stumped mudily on the front porch. Papa accordingly shuffled his feet diligently upon the wire mat; then stepped upon a strip of carpet on the porch and by contorting himself into weird shapes wiped the edges of his shoe soles comparatively clean.

"Don't hang your wet coat there!"
called his wife. "Don't you know water will ruin that chair?" Papa accordingly gathered up his raincoat and carried it up to the bathroom.

"Oh, mamma," wailed the youngest daughter; "look at the mud he's leaving on the stairs! And I just washed them myself!" But papa was putting on his slippers in the bathroom, standing on one foot and hopping about like some damp stork. Then he changed his clothes and came down stairs.

"Did you change your clothes, dear?" inquired his wife sweetly, eyeing the chair in which he sat with speculative eye. Papa growled and turned over a sheet of his paper, for he knew all about that inquiry.

Presently he stretched, yawned and rose. He walked over to the sofa, heaped with pillows and lay back luxuriously just as the middle daughter came in.

"Why, papa," she shrieked; "you're spilling the sofa pillows. You're lying right on them." Papa sat up.

"What's this sofa for?" he demanded. His wife had come in by this time and stood side by side with her indignant daughter.

"Certainly not to treat as you're treating it," she said. "If you want to take a nap lie on your bed." Papa arose. His jaw began to grow rigid, for papa was getting mad. For long he had put up with this sort of thing and the limit was reached.

"Take those pillows up to your rooms," he commanded the assembled daughters; "this sofa goes out in the woodshed. This is no place for useless things." Then he dragged it out into the shed, leaving consternation in his wake.

"What do you mean?" stormed his wife. Papa looked at her and she began to grow uneasy under his look.
He didn't say anything.

"Go up in the bathroom and get my raincoat and shoes," he directed. "One of your girls, I don't care which." The girls looked at each other.

"Go!" said papa, "and be quick."
The youngest daughter went. Then papa sat on a sacred chair and put on his shoes. The slippers, one inside the other, he handed the oldest daughter.

"Take them to the bathroom," he commanded. The oldest daughter stared. Then she started to say something and shrugging her shoulders departed, holding the slippers as though they might bite. She couldn't miss any of this remarkable situation, so she returned.

"I'm going down to the office," said papa; "you can pack up what you like, because we're going to store this truck and go to a hotel."

"Why, papa!" It was a chorus of alarmed voices. But papa was firm.
"One thing is certain," he said;
"we're through with this foolishness.
I've had all I'll stand. I'll do this much—either you'll make this place homelike, beginning tomorrow morning, or we quit housekeeping. That's all." Then he departed in the rain.

But when he returned his slippers were in the hall, and his favorite chair, with the evening papers on it, was stationed under the light and the family had retired.

Then papa put on the slippers, put them on another chair and began to read.—Galveston News.

Japan Likes Her Birds.

Birds have an excellent time in Japan, and our own agriculturists would do well to emulate the treatment meted out by their eastern conferees to such birds as the swallow and martin, says the Wide World. With a skilled appreciation of the part these feathered friends play in relation to their crops by keeping down the insect pests, they exert every effort to protect them and to encourage them to propagate their kind. It is to be wondered at that this sentimental but withal eminently practical nation reverences the swallows as messengers to the gods and invites them to build their nests, not only under eaves and rafters, but in every and any room of the house? In the hotel dining room were several nests, where the happy parents reared their families in complete safety.

Forbidden Sweets.

"Robson denounces kissing."
"Sour grapes."
"Why do you say that?"
"His wife is so homely he couldn't kiss anybody else."

Heavy Books Injure a Child.

"Don't let the children carry heavy books to and from school," is the advice of a physician who has had a wide experience in children's hospitals. The habit tends to make one shoulder higher than the other, to lengthen the arm and to enlarge the hand disproportionately. When "home work" cannot be avoided, let the child have a set of books for home use. Or, if that is not possible, at least do not allow him to carry books always on the same side.—Good Housekeeping

SEEK FOR AN OLD FORTUNE

German Heirs of Wealth Missing for Centuries Sue Dresden Bank for $17,800,000.

With a view to tracing a huge inheritance lost for centuries, a syndicate has been formed in Cologne and has retained some prominent German lawyers. Several members of the reichstag are connected with the scheme, which is built up around the vanished estate of Baron von Oruhohn, a field marshal in the Dutch army, who died 234 years ago.

This search has its counterpart in a series of Bavarian mysteries dating still further back, and curiously enough also dealing with Dutch fortunes left to German relatives. In the latter case the descendants of four separate families have joined hands in an effort to acquire the fortunes left to them.

Here are the main facts upon which the various claimants hope to establish their right to the vanished $17, 800,000.

In 1636 George Schleder, a German emigrant from the Moselle country, died, leaving about one and three-quarter million dollars to his family.
In 1664 Andreas Joas, Schleder's son-in-law, died, leaving $3,500,000 to relatives in Bavaria. In 1707 Johann Joas, a nephew of Andreas, died, bequeathing nearly a million dollars to the same Bavarian family. A year previously a Spanish governor named Jals died at Antwerp, leaving five millions to relatives in Bavaria.

Finally Joseph Pongratz, who, like the two Joases and Schleder, lived and died at Amsterdam, left $7,000,000 to descendants at Sechhausen, Germany.

These fortunes have gone astray.
That they once existed is beyond all doubt. The heirs of Johann Joas are ready to show that an Augsburg lawyer testified to the arrival of the million on May 3, 1785. The hopeful ones in the case of Jals hold a document registering the banking of their ancestor's fortune in an Augsburg house in 1786.

The beneficiaries under the Pon-gratz will have even received small cash advance from this fortune during the centuries which have elapsed.
Once, for instance, a lucky descendant actually succeeded in obtaining a quarter of a million dollars. This was in 1791.

As recently as 1855 an Augsburg banker named Halder confessed on his death bed that he made his fortune out of the missing Pongratz millions—that the money was in fact lying in his safes. The would-be beneficiaries put forth every effort to obtain their due, but in vain.

The Halder business has lately been amalgamated with the bank of Dresden, and the descendants are now suing the latter concern.

The parish of St. Peter's church have purchased a site for the purpose of laying out a catholic cemetery at this place the land purchased adjoins the Hillside cemetery on the south and extends on as far as the Harden road. This will bring the cemetery in the corner facing the west and also the south, and will no doubt, when laid out, make an ideal location. The first place chosen was near Loon Lake but this site was later rejected, the one nearer town was considered, and finally accepted. The land has already been surveyed.

The stereopticon lecture for the benefit of the Hillside cemetery last Friday evening was very largely attended and was pronounced first class in every respect. The ladies worked hard and were rewarded by clearing about $70 aside from all expenses. Much credit is due to Mr. Richardson and Mr. Shuey for their services, and for the manner in which they aided and abetted the affair from start to finish.

Card of Thanks

The officers and members of the Antioch Hillside Cemetery society desire to publicly thank Mr. O. W. Richerson and Mr. Shuey for the entertainment donated by them, the proceeds of which netted the society about $70.

ANY BRIDE SATISFIED HIM

In India, When the Groom's First Choice Balked, He Accepted a Volunteer.

The Youth's Companion recounts a story of a wedding described in Dr. Winfred Heston's "A Bluestocking in India."

"Yesterday I went to a native Christian wedding. Many guests had assembled and the ceremony had progressed to the point where Mr. Grey asked the bride:

"Do you take this man to love, cherish and obey? when the young woman in the case responded with a surprising and unmistakable 'No!'

"Mr. Grey labored with her in an undertone, but to no avail. The marriage had, as usual, been arranged by the parents without consulting the daughter. But it is almost an unknown thing for a girl to be so bold and disobedient. The situation was then explained to the assembled guests, and volunteers were asked to supply the vacancy. A young woman promptly came forward and the ceremony proceeded as if nothing had happened.

"Afterward the bride left the altar by different aisles to hold a reception under a tree, where congratulations and rice were poured upon them. The groom placed a silver ring upon the great toe of the bride's left foot, and a 'best man' tied the groom's neck scarf to the bride's flowing garment, and thus they sat in state for some hours."

FETES FOR AGED COUPLES

How Honor is Paid the Old People in France by Public Festivals.

Rheims has just been celebrating an interesting event, the golden wedding of 60 old couples, says the Westminster Review.

The fete is as old as the Revolution, when it first seems to have begun. In the time of the directory there were two fetes, the fete of the old people and the fete of the golden wedding. This seems to have been a very pretty affair, to judge from the account in the Debats. There was a procession of oxen, with their horns crowned with flowers, followed by children crowned with violets, by young men wreathed with myrtle, and old men with garlands of olives and girls dressed as vestal virgins.

At Paris in August, 1797, there was a great festival in honor of the old men, who were all given seats at the Opera, when "a gracious Hebe crowned their white locks with garlands of roses," and the soldiers presented arms. The idea of the fete was the encouragement of the family circle. The old man, who was a happy grandfather, was feted as an encouragement to the younger generation to follow in his footsteps.

Important Question.

It is idle to frame such a query as "Can the cook be a lady?" The real question is now and ever will be: "Can the lady cook?"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SO SADIE CAME BACK

STORY OF THE FAMILY HORSE, ONCE DISCARDED.

Battered, Lame and Starving, the Old Pet Was Recovered From the Peddler for the Pitying Children.

"It's Sadie!" shrieked the children. "Oh, papa, it's Sadie!"

Attached to a heavy wagon, scarred and battered, and with high bones projecting about the hips, a yellowish horse, blind in one eye, a swelling on one pastern, and a pronounced limp in a forefoot, wearily plodding along the street, and on the rusty wagon a man in a dirty sweater yelled something that might have been the word "coal," since the wagon was loaded with fuel.

"Oh, papa, it's Sadie!"

The man took one look and saw that it was so. Sadie, once the pet of the children and sold because of growing infirmities and increasing age, had seemingly not improved.

"Oh, papa!" There was that in the three young voices that made the father think swiftly. He remembered how the children had wept when Sadie had gone and how he had hardened his heart because the old horse was so utterly worthless and such an eyesore.

"Don't she look bad?" the little boy asked in an awed tone. The two little girls broke into muffled sobs. The father could stand no more. He signaled to the driver, who pulled up the old mare at the curb.

"Coal?" he asked, sneeringly, taking stock of the man before him.

"What value do you place on that horse?" the father asked briefly. The driver stared at him and winked openly.

"She's worth a hundred dollars to me," he said. "My wife's that attached to her." The father turned away, the children followed silently in view of the look on his face. He had sold Sadie for $15, and had been glad to get it. The driver, alarmed, called after him.

"Say, mister!" he shouted, "maybe we can trade. What'll you give me for her?" The father turned.

"I owned that horse once," he said in a tone that made the driver gasp, he had looked so mild. "I sold her for $15, and she was worth ten. I'll give you $25 for her, spot cash. Take it or leave it."

"Lemme drive my wagon to the yard?" the man asked, shrewdly.

"Pull it yourself," said the father sharply, noting a raw spot on the old mare's neck.

"That goes," said the driver, clambering down. "Lemme see your money." Then he signed a receipt the father scribbled on a leaf of his notebook, threw the patched harness into the wagon, and disappeared, dragging it after him.

"Oh, papa! Oh, papa!" said the children.

And hearing, the father figured that this alone was worth the difference of $10.—Dallas News.

Seven Follies of Science.

The history of science has seven problems that men in all ages more or less have tried to solve, but which have finally been given up by all. Today they are called follies. The usual list comprises the following: First, squaring the circle; second, duplication of the cube; third, trisection of an angle; fourth, perpetual motion; fifth, transmutation of metals; sixth, fixation of mercury; seventh, elixir of life. Some lists put the philosopher's stone for the last three and then add astrology and magic to make the seventh. To the unlearned it would seem possible to draw a square which shall be exactly equal in area to a given circle, which is the first problem in the list, but we are told by the highest authorities that it is impossible. Since the discovery of radium it is claimed that the change of one metal into another has been accomplished, but it is yet too early to dogmatize about the matter.

CARING FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Thirty-Nine State and 114 Local Sanatoria Provided, but These Are Only a Beginning.

In spite of the fact that state sanatoria and hospitals for tuberculosis have been established in 31 states, and 114 municipal or county hospitals in 28 states, vastly more public provision is needed to stamp out consumption, says the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Nearly every state east of the Mississippi river has provided a state sanatorium, and west of the Mississippi river, state sanatoria have been established in Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Oregon. There are 38 sanatoria provided by these states, Massachusetts having four, Connecticut and Pennsylvania three and Texas two. Including special pavilions and almshouses, there are 114 municipal or county hospitals for the care of tuberculous patients.

Apart from these institutions, however, and a few special pavilions at prisons, hospitals for the insane, and some other public institutions, a grand total of hardly 200, the institutional care of the consumptive is left to private philanthropy.

Second Burglar—I've got him beat a block. I entered a yacht last week and got a whole silver service.

Easily in the Lead.

Louis Jennings, Elsie Hathaway and Florence Brintall are three schoolmates whose indignant parents provided a picnic for each of them, giving carte blanche as to the number of their guests and the manner of entertainment on the beach. Three parties in ten days means a lot to young ladies of the tender age of eight. But they recovered quickly enough from the fatigue. Followed comparison:

"I think," said Lou, "ours was a very nice party. And we had ice cream twice, if you remember."

"Oh, I don't know," quoth Elsie—she insists upon being called by her full name and will answer to no other—"I notice all my guests rode round on the carousel as often as they wanted."

"I'm sure my party was the best of all," spoke up Flo. "Father says every d—d kid in town was there."

LOCATED HIM RIGHT AWAY

Possibly Display of Bill of Generous Denomination May Have Had Some Effect.

A southerner who was visiting St. Louis wandered into the dining room of the hotel and, seeing a negro servant who had all the importance of an army officer standing near the door, asked him who the "head nigger" was around there. The negro stretched himself to his full height, and pompously replied that "there ain't no niggers in St. Louis, sah. We is all gem'men of color."

"Well," said the southerner, drawing a $100 bill from his pocket and fingering it, "I expect to be at the hotel for some time and want to make sure that I will be taken care of."

"Oh, sah," said the negro, whose eyes were popping from his head, "did you want to know who the head nigger waiter is? That's me."—Allentown Call.

Settled Them.

"I've a sight o' sons—thirteen altogether," remarked a prosperous old farmer, "and all of 'em's done me credit save the three eldest, who sowed wild oats at a pretty rapid rate, and then came home and saddled my shoulders with the harvest."

"Well, I own I was glad to see 'em back, and I feasted 'em, and petted 'em, and set 'em on their legs again, only to see 'em skedaddle off afresh when things had slowed down, with all the cash they could lay hands on."

"That thereabouts sickened me, so I called the rest of 'em together and said:

"There's ten of you left, and if any of you 'ud like to follow 'other three I won't try to stop you. But, understand this, though there may be a few more prodigal sons, there'll be no more fattened calves. I've killed the last of 'em!"

"And," continued the old man, triumphantly, "I've had trouble w' none of 'em since!"

Her Father's Child.

The six-year-old daughter of a well-known evangelical preacher was playing on the sidewalk one day, when a shabbily dressed and downcast man approached her father's house.

Halting at the foot of the steps, he looked at her, and in a weary voice—the voice of an unsuccessful book agent—he asked if her father might be found in his study.

"He isn't home," said the little girl, drawing close to him, and gazing up into the tired face, "but he'll be home pretty soon. You go into the house, you poor, perishing soul, and mother'll look after you till he comes."—Youth's Companion.

The Girl's Handicap.

In her pretty new frock sister Mabel felt quite proud as she sat on the front step and watched some boys playing on the sidewalk.

After a time one little boy came up to talk to her and to admire, in his rough little way, her bright shiny shoes and pink sash.

"See my nice square-cut waist," exclaimed the girl, "and my nice coral beads! Don't you wish you wuz a girl?"

"No sir-ee," replied the boy. "I wouldn't want to be any girl at all, because lookie how much more neck you haf to wash."

To Make Fruit Jar Rubbers Last.

To have fruit jar rubbers last, keep them well covered in a jar full of flour until used, and as soon as removed from empty jars. One can then afford a good quality of rubbers, as kept thus they will safely last several seasons. When there is doubt of old rubbers, they may often be made to eke out one more season by using two of the rubbers to each jar and screwing down tight. Always stand newly filled jars upside down until cool, to test the tops and rubbers.—Designer.

WRONG SORT

Perhaps Plain Old Meat, Potatoes and Bread May Be Against You for a Time.

A change to the right kind of food can lift one from a sick bed. A lady in Weldon, Ill., says:

"Last spring I became bed-fast with severe stomach troubles accompanied by sick headache. I got worse and worse until I became so low I could scarcely retain any food at all, although I tried almost every kind."

"I had become completely discouraged, and given up all hope, and thought I was doomed to starve to death, until one day my husband, trying to find something I could retain, brought home some Grape-Nuts."

"To my surprise the food agreed with me, digested perfectly and without distress. I began to gain strength at once. My flesh (which had been flabby), grew firmer, my health improved in every way and every day, and in a very few weeks I gained 20 pounds, in weight."

"I liked Grape-Nuts so well that for four months I ate no other food, and always felt as well satisfied after eating as if I had sat down to a fine banquet."

"I had no return of the miserable sick stomach nor of the headaches, that I used to have when I ate other food. I am now a well woman, doing all my own work again, and feel that life is worth living."

"Grape-Nuts food has been a God-send to my family; it surely saved my life; and my two little boys have thrived on it wonderfully." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FOREST FIRES RAGE

TWENTY DIE AND 2,000 RENDERED HOMELESS BY FLAMES IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN.

MANY PEOPLE ARE MISSING

Property Loss at Oscoda and Ausable Reaches $2,000,000—Casualty List Around North Bay, Ontario, Reported Heavy.

Detroit, Mich.—The forest fires in northern Michigan are still spreading, but not nearly as rapidly as for the past few days owing to the dying down of the wind.

The first refugees from Oscoda and Ausable have arrived in Detroit. They escaped from their burning cities on a steamer which was afire when it left its dock. It was the Niko, owned by Edward Hines, the Chicago lumberman, who sent word that human lives always were to be valued above property, and to remain at the dock until there was no chance to save any more.

Some definite estimates of loss of life now are made. In the two burned cities there are at least twenty known dead. Many others are missing. The loss in those two cities alone is $2,000,000.

The town latest to be attacked is Waters, which is near Roscommon. Appeals were sent out and shortly afterwards communication was lost. Dispatches from Frederick, seven miles away, say that the town must be entirely in flames, for the light from the fire is as bright as though it was only across a street. The last word from the town was that all the lumber yards were afire. No trains are running either way.

An Ausable dispatch says that about one hundred residences remain in that city, but that every business building of every description was destroyed. More than two thousand are homeless. A general appeal has been sent to the people of the state for help. Bay City is supplying food, and will be able to do so for several days. In Detroit preparations are being made to send wearing apparel and other necessities.

A lumber camp near Grayling was burned, and one man is reported dead.

Orders were issued for three companies of militia to be sent to the burned district. The soldiers will be used only for making tenting abodes for the homeless and for such other rescue work as may be necessary.

The fires now have attacked 12 counties, though not covering any of them completely. They have broken out in widely separated localities. The intense heat of the last month has made the woods so dry that the slightest carelessness in the lumber camps will start fires that cannot be controlled. The counties which have been affected are: Emmett, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Alcona, Oscoda, Crawford, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Isosco.

That part of Ontario, bordering on Lake Huron also is being devastated by forest fires. A dispatch from Toronto says advices received there give estimates of fifty dead and hundreds missing, and that it is expected the total of lives lost will be hundreds. At Porcupine thirty men and women were driven into the lake by a wall of flame and drowned. Kelso, Cochrane, South Porcupine and Pottsville have been practically wiped from the face of the earth.

Every mining camp from Dome to Whitley is gone. Men, women and children lack the bare necessities of life. There are thousands of refugees, many of them centered at Golden Gate, which escaped the main part of the flames. The Ontario government railway is giving all possible aid both in shelter and food.

INDICT LEWIS FOR FRAUD

Former Publisher of St. Louis Accused of Illegally Using U. S. Mails in Debiture Scheme.

St. Louis.—E. G. Lewis, until recently publisher of a number of magazines and promoter of large enterprises, was indicted by a special grand jury in the United States district court on charges of fraudulent use of the mails.

The indictment, containing twelve counts, covers four propositions laid before the public by Lewis, in which he is alleged to have obtained several million dollars by misleading statements circulated through the mails.

It is charged that through misrepresentations with intent to defraud Lewis sold unsecured notes on the Woman's Magazine building and the Woman's National Daily building in University City, of which Lewis is mayor, sold unsecured notes of the University Heights Realty and Development company, operated a "debiture scheme" and misrepresented the condition of the Lewis Publishing company in selling stock in that concern.

CHURCH LIGHTED BY WIND

Novel Method Employed to Illuminate Sacred Edifice Near Birmingham, England.

Possibly one of the most novel methods of providing lighting for a church is that employed at the old Cosely church, situated a few miles out from Birmingham, England.

About 600 feet from the church is the mouth of a disused coal mine, around which are huge piles of tailings. Upon one of these a steel tower 60 feet high is erected and a windmill 18 feet in diameter installed. At the base of the tower in a small house is an electric generator which is run by the mill. The current thus generated feeds 27 lamps in the church, two in the chapel, two in the vestry; operates a motor for pumping the pipe organ, and also lights 30 lamps in the rectory. A storage battery in the rectory is a part of this unique lighting plant.

PITIFUL SIGHT WITH ECZEMA

"A few days after birth we noticed an inflamed spot on our baby's hip which soon began spreading until baby was completely covered even in his eyes, ears and scalp. For eight weeks he was bandaged from head to foot. He could not have a stitch of clothing on. Our regular physician pronounced it chronic eczema. He is a very able physician and ranks with the best in this locality, nevertheless, the disease began spreading until baby was completely covered. He was losing flesh so rapidly that we became alarmed and decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"Not until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment could we tell what he looked like, as we dared not wash him, and I had been putting one application after another on him. On removing the scale from his head the hair came off, and left him entirely bald, but since we have been using Cuticura Soap and Ointment he has as much hair as ever. Four weeks after we began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was entirely cured. I don't believe anyone could have eczema worse than our baby."

"Before we used the Cuticura Remedies we could hardly look at him, he was such a pitiful sight. He would fuss until I would treat him, they seemed to relieve him so much. Cuticura Soap and Ointment stand by themselves and the result they quickly and surely bring is their own recommendation." (Signed) Mrs. T. B. Rosser, Mill Hall, Pa., Feb. 20, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 29 K, Boston.

Trying to Be Witty.

They were sitting in the parlor with the lights turned low. The hour was pretty late. He and she had talked about everything, from the weather to the latest shows. He yawned and she yawned, but he made no attempt to move toward home, and she was becoming weary.

At last she said: "I heard a noise outside just now. I wonder if it could be burglars?"

Of course he tried to be funny. "Maybe it was the night falling?" he said.

"O, I guess not," she exclaimed; "guess it was the day breaking." (Hasty exit of he.)

Just So.

"Because he's always off when you need him most, I guess."

HOW HE OBTAINS PIN MONEY

Farmer's Husband Tells His Methods of Persuading the Hens to Lay More Eggs.

Like most farmers' husbands I am compelled to rely on the chicken and egg money to dress myself, as my wife puts all the cash into labor-saving machinery for every place but the kitchen. This was borne in on me early in my married life, so I carefully studied means of increasing the lay of my barnyard friends.

In the winter time I always wear a pretty lace shirt and carry a palm leaf fan when I feed the hens. This apparel I have found completely deceives them into thinking it is summer, and they lay accordingly.

In the summer it takes but a moment for me to slip into my nearplush ulster and wind a bright red tippet around my neck while scattering their corn. This is important, for it makes them think it is winter, and hence summer, and insures a plentiful supply of eggs.

I have observed they do not seem to care whether these clothes are the latest style or not, so I generally wear my third best. In addition to these simple little devices I always sing to them, "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight," at all seasons of the year.

By faithfully following this plan for the last seventeen years I have managed to save enough money to buy a perfectly stunning pair of lilac harem trousers.—McLanburgh Wilson in New York Times.

England Copied From America.

The American system of lettergrams is responsible for an innovation which has been recently put into operation in England by the postoffice authorities by which the advantage of the delivery of a letter on Sunday is secured at the expense of a trifling fee. It is simply necessary to write on the envelope: "To be telephoned on Sunday," and adds an extra half-cent of postage for every 30 words or fraction thereof. Then the postal clerk at the receiving office calls up the person addressed by telephone and conveys the message without leaving the postoffice. If enough postage is included the same message may be delivered by telephone to a number of different parties in the same city.
